Developmental abilities lead to growth and fulfillment

TOMS RIVER - Ocean County Library's Toms River branch (101 Washington St.) will show the documentary "I'm an Artist" 7 p.m. Monday May 11. A discussion of the film will follow.

"I'm an Artist" is a heartwarming documentary about young adults with physical, emotional and mental disabilities and the dedicated teacher that helps them to create their own artwork and gain confidence in their life skills.

The film is a tribute to dedicated teachers and families who work very hard to make a difference in a person's life. Their enthusiasm and support shows children with learning disabilities can achieve more growth than most people believe possible.

The program is free and open to the public but registration is required. Registration begins April 27.

The Ocean County Library is a Professional Development Provider registered with the New Jersey State Department of Education. If educators have received approval from their school district, they may receive a Professional Development Certificate for participating in this event.

The programs are free and open to the public but registration is required. To register telephone 732-349-6200 or 609-971-0514, or go to the library's website: www.theoceancountylibrary.org, click on the "Events & News" icon, then click on "Calendar of Events."
